A MONTHLY
TOWN OF BARNSTABLE
NEWSLETTER

April 2014

From the Town Manager

Dear Reader:

Spring is in the air and new beginnings are around every corner. The DPW is starting their annual clean up activities and economic activity is blooming all over town. The harsh winter will add a degree of difficulty to the clean-up process. We will look forward to watching things flourish as the season progresses.

We present the Capital Improvement Plan to the Town Council on April 3rd. We will be submitting the Operating Budget to the Town Council in May.

National Volunteer Week is early this year as it is recognized during April 6-13, 2014. This year's theme is "Volunteers are Our Everyday Heroes". On behalf of the Town of Barnstable, I would like to publicly thank all of those volunteers who give countless hours to serve on our various boards and commissions. And where would we be without the dedicated volunteers who work with our Recreation Division's Beach Sticker/Parking Permit program? Or our Senior Services volunteers who do everything from greeting visitors at the front desk to helping prepare taxes during this time of year? Or those who work assisting our staff with the Shellfish propagation program? The Barnstable Police Department's Volunteers in Police Service (VIPS) is widely recognized as an outstanding volunteer program with volunteers serving at the front desk and as couriers and they are a vital part of the new Hyannis Main Street Police Substation. The Barnstable Public School system has hundreds of volunteers on a daily basis. We are truly grateful for all of you who give back to your community and we hope that you will continue to do so. Thank you for your service!

We were pleased that the Town of Barnstable Beach Staff of Claire Barre, Kellen Comer, Brian Cundiff, Matthew Goula, Samuel Holway, Meghan Mamlock and Julia Rugo were recognized at the 12th Annual Red Cross Heroes Breakfast for their rescue efforts at Covell's Beach last summer. Also recognized were Carrie Consalvi of Marstons Mills (Boston Strong Hero), Anna Maria Waechter of Marstons Mills (Good Samaritan Hero), Christopher R. Bell of Hyannis (Individual with Disability Hero), Joe Buncschuh of Hyannis, Zachary Hunter of Centerville and Mike McNally of Marstons Mills (Lifesaving Heroes. Captain Richard Phillips, Massachusetts Maritime Academy graduate and inspiration for the movie "Captain Phillips", was on hand to recognize and congratulate our Heroes.

Happy Spring!

Superintendent's Corner

The budget process for Barnstable Public Schools is a thoughtful, extensive and collaborative process involving town officials, School Committee, School Councils and several staff from the school system. I would like to provide an overview of how the school budget is developed and our recommended FY15 School Budget.

While preparing the budget, the following factors were taken into account:

- The core values, the School Committee's goals, and district goals;
- Prioritization of what is educationally sound and challenges our students that attend Barnstable Public Schools; and
- Budget conceptual factors beyond the district's control: Unfunded mandates, educator accountability, mandates on student learning, technology, and growth.

FY15 Budget Priorities and Recommendations:

- The need to hire and retain qualified staff;
- Maintain optimal student to teacher ratios at all grade and program levels;
- Continue to refine curriculum, instruction, and assessment practices;
- Preserve programs that support Barnstable Public School's uniqueness - CVTE, Art, Drama, and Advance Placement;
- Develop a technology infrastructure that positions the district for the new PARCC online assessment program; and
- Continue to provide high quality, rigorous instruction for all students including our high needs populations.

Cemeteries

Did you know that the DPW is responsible for the fourteen (14) Town cemeteries? The DPW, Structures and Grounds Division, is responsible for the operation and maintenance of these, and future, burial grounds in Town. This month we thought we would discuss the cemetery program.

Operations and Burial Services

As one might expect, the Department is responsible for selling lots, and maintaining accurate cemetery lot mapping and records. However, we also must plan for future requirements, and identify the raw land that will be needed to accommodate those needs. Part of this planning process includes analysis of burial and memorialization trends. One of these trends over the past decade has been an increase in the number of cremation interments vs. traditional full casket burials. As a result, the Town is constructing its first columbarium at the Mosswood Cemetery this spring, and hopes to offer this alternative to families beginning fall 2014. Regardless of the preferred method of burial, we work very closely with residents to make sure they understand their burial and memorialization options in Town, and strive to make the process as easy as possible. We also coordinate with funeral directors to provide scheduling and supervision of funeral services and interment excavation for approximately 250 burials annually.

Maintenance

As mentioned, the DPW provides maintenance, beautification, and improvements for the fourteen Town cemeteries, regardless if they are active (lots remaining to sell) or inactive (no lots remaining to sell). These grounds are managed under an organic land care program that has eliminated the use of synthetic fertilizers and pesticides by building soil health with cultural and organic practices. In a special project, the cemetery crews have been professionally trained by a gravestone conservator in granite, slate and marble restoration to allow us to do rudimentary preservation and restoration of ancient gravestones. Finally, in the Mosswood Cemetery greenhouse we grow all of the annuals and perennials for the Beechwood Cemetery memorial parade and Mosswood Cemetery display gardens.

Visiting

We feel our Town Cemeteries are beautiful places and are open to visitors seven days a week throughout the year. Visitors are requested to bear in mind that cemeteries are consecrated to the memories of those who are buried there. Dignified behavior is required at all times, and anyone who violates this rule will be asked to leave.

Please feel free to be in touch with us if you have any questions, or concerns about your public infrastructure. Our phone number is (508) 790-6400.

FIVE MAJOR IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED AT AIRPORT THIS YEAR AND NEXT

Two of five major improvement projects planned for 2014-15 are underway at Barnstable Municipal Airport. They are part of the airport's draft master plan, a document required by the Development of Regional Impact (DRI) agreement between the airport and the Cape Cod Commission.

An aircraft taxiway, known as Taxiway Alpha, is being relocated 50 feet farther from parallel Runway 15/33 that runs along Barnstable Road. Airport Manager Roland "Bud" Breault says the $6 million project will increase the safe-separation distance between taxiing aircraft and those that are taking off and landing. "Once completed it will significantly increase safety on the airfield," he said. "The Federal Aviation Administration required this to be done, and the FAA and the Aeronautics Division of the Massachusetts Department of Transportation have committed to pay 98 percent of the project cost." As part of the same project, the airport will complete reconstruction of the aircraft parking apron adjacent to the passenger terminal, Breault added.

In addition, construction has begun on a new central deicing pad near the new air traffic control tower. It will replace three others now scattered around the airfield. Breault says the state-of-the-art facility will use an environmentally-friendly process to collect used deicing fluids, route them through a collection tank then directly into the Town of Barnstable's sewer system. Currently, de-icing chemicals and water have to be vacuumed manually before being placed into the sewer.

Construction is expected to begin this year on nearly 30 acres of ground-based, photovoltaic solar panels that collect the sun's energy. To be sited on the airfield across from the terminal, the panels will generate electricity for use by the airport and some of the town's water facilities. The project's start date is somewhat uncertain, Breault said, but in order for the project to stay on track construction must be completed by the end of June. Breault estimated that the panels, when operational, will reduce the airport's cost of electricity by more than 17 percent and provide more than $7 million in revenue over 20 years.

The state currently is funding the design and engineering of a 60,000 gallon, above-ground jet fuel storage center, known as a fuel farm, which will be built on the airfield. The environmentally-friendly fuel farm will replace a 20-year-old underground tank that has one-third of the capacity of the new one. Pending the availability of state and federal funds construction will begin next year, Breault reported.

JetBlue Grows Its New England Presence with the Addition of Hyannis/Cape Cod

Seasonal Service between New York and Cape Cod June 26 - September 9, 2014

On March 12th, JetBlue Airways (JBLU) announced the addition of Barnstable Municipal Airport in Hyannis, Mass., the gateway to Cape Cod, to its growing route network with nonstop jet service to New York City. The Capital of the Cape will be the airline's 86th destination. Hyannis also marks JetBlue's 64th nonstop route from New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport.

JetBlue will be the only airline connecting New York City with one of America's most popular summer destinations, offering seasonal service with one daily flight between June 26 and September 9, 2014. JetBlue also serves the Cape and Islands with non-stop flights to Martha's Vineyard from New York and to Nantucket from both Boston and New York.

Customers can now book flights on JetBlue.com starting at $99 one way between JFK and Hyannis/Cape Cod, valid for travel on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays between June 26 and July 24, 2014 (a).

"Cape Cod is one of the most iconic getaway destinations in America, but without any nonstop flights from New York City, it has been a difficult place to get to," said Robin Hayes, JetBlue's President. "New Yorkers will now be able to access Cape Cod much quicker, more conveniently and for a lot less money. Together with our seasonal nonstop flights to Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket, there is no better way than JetBlue to reach the Cape and Islands this summer."
